Griswold's BETTER LAWNS

The Essentials of a Perfect Lawn

No other factor is as important in establishing a new lawn as the quality of the seed. Cheap lawn grass mixtures invariably will result in disappointment. They always are light in weight, which means they contain much worthless chaff. The best of care in preparing the soil and adding fertilizers, humus, etc., cannot overcome the handicap of cheap seed.

In obtaining grass seed from GRISWOLD'S you are buying from Grass Seed Specialists with a background of nearly a half century.

As all good lawn grasses are permanent, great care should be taken in preparing the seed bed. Remove all sticks and debris, and pulverize the soil thoroughly to a depth of 6 inches; if the soil is poor, such as that which comes from the average excavation, 3 to 4 inches of good loam soil should be added as a top soil. As the soil is being worked, level the ground so that when you are through you will have established the desired grade, and it will be smooth—no holes nor mounds.

Apply a good commercial fertilizer, such as Sacco or Vigoro, at the rate of 4 pounds to 100 square feet (10x10 ft.) and rake well into the top soil; smooth and firm the surface with a roller. Go over the surface and rake lightly, doing the final leveling and also preparing the proper surface for seeding.

Sow plenty of good lawn grass seed—1 pound to 200 square feet (10x20 ft.), rake lightly. It has been found that covering the new seeding with Imported German Peat Moss is a big help; it not only conserves moisture but shades the tender young plants, thereby insuring a good stand of grass. After applying the Peat Moss, follow with a roller, then water thoroughly. Soak the ground, but not so fast as to have the water wash, as this will damage your seed bed and run off part of the seed.

Care of Old Lawns

In early spring rake out all debris and roll while the ground is still spongy; remove all weeds that may have lived through the winter. If there are any bare spots or the grass too thin, loosen the surface with the teeth of the rake and sow plenty of good grass seed, raking it in lightly. Apply a top dressing of Sacco or Vigoro at the rate of 4 pounds to 100 square feet, and water. When watering, soak the ground, don't just sprinkle.

Cut the grass often enough so that the clippings may be allowed to remain on the ground, but do not clip so short as to injure the plants; set the mower blades as high as possible.

In the fall (early September) you should again feed your lawn by applying Sacco or Vigoro the same as in the spring, and also do any necessary re-seeding. Always remember that to have and keep a good lawn, you must continually weed, seed, fertilize and water.

SPECIAL LAWN GRASS MIXTURE—This mixture will give you a rich, green, smooth, velvety sod of fine texture, free from grasses which are inclined to produce clumps or knots. None of Griswold's lawn grass formulas contain timothy, which is a coarse hay grass and does not belong in a lawn. Price: 1 lb., $0.40; 5 lbs., $1.75.

GRISWOLD BRED-TO

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS

Standard Weight: Cocks, 9½ lbs.; Cockerels, 8 lbs.; Hens, 7½ lbs.; Pullets, 6 lbs.

In our BRED-TO-LAY BARRED ROCKS we offer some of the most wonderful quality that could be developed from the best foundation strains plus rigid culling and mating with R.O.P. males.

These males are from one of the largest R.O.P. Barred Rock Breeding Farms in the United States. All the stock is under the State Poultry Improvement Association.

These Barred Rocks are the big, husky fellows that are easy to raise and turn their feed into meat at a rate that is truly astonishing.

The R.O.P. Barred Rock Cockerels heading our BRED-TO-LAY females are the grandsons of dams with official trapnest records of 253 to 307 eggs.

Chicks from this fine BRED-TO-LAY mating should be very profitable both for egg production and meat.

R.O.P. BARRED ROCK SIRE

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY BUFF ORPINGTONS

Standard Weight: Cocks, 10 lbs.; Cockerels, 8½ lbs.; Hens, 8 lbs.; Pullets, 7 lbs.
Their Large Size and Heavy Egg Production Make Them a Most Profitable Breed

The Orpingtons are of English origin and are large and stately in appearance. They have long, round, deep bodies, full breasts, broad backs and rather short legs. Their large size makes them a most desirable fowl for market purposes, and they are widely used as broilers and capons. In addition to this, they are one of the best layers of the heavy breeds; they are extremely hardy, having a heavy coat of feathers that enables them to withstand the cold.

We have specialized in Buff Orpingtons for years, and a big per cent of all the chicks we sell are Buff Orpingtons, due, no doubt, to the fact that our Buff Orpingtons are of such fine quality and are so profitable to raise.

We have some wonderful flocks of Buff Orpingtons, and our BRED-TO-LAY flocks are hard to beat. These flocks are headed by males from a flock that has a ten-year egg record of 200 eggs per hen; it is a remarkable flock record. We also have some very fine exhibition quality males to head our BRED-TO-LAY flocks. To get started in Buff Orpingtons, or to improve your flock, it will pay you to buy some of our BRED-TO-LAY Buff Orpington chicks.

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY WHITE ORPINGTONS

Standard Weight: Cocks, 10 lbs.; Cockerels, 8½ lbs.; Hens, 8 lbs.; Pullets, 7 lbs.

To those who like the Orpington type but prefer white plumage, we recommend our White Orpingtons very highly. They will pay the same large dividends to their owners in the form of eggs and market poultry as the Buffs do. They are in steadily increasing demand every season. The chicks are very attractive with their heavy snow-white fluff and gentle ways.

PEN OF R. O. P. BREEDING STOCK

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY WHITE ROCKS

Standard Weight: Cocks, 9½ lbs.; Cockerels, 8 lbs.; Hens, 7½ lbs.; Pullets, 6 lbs.

Heading our BRED-TO-LAY White Rock flocks are cockerels that are direct descendants of R.O.P. Cockerels that we have secured direct from a breeder of one of the best laying strains of White Rocks in America.

These cockerels are big, strong, husky fellows, true to type, and with beautiful white plumage. Each cockerel is a pedigreed bird from a dam with a 365-day trapnest record made either in National Egg Laying Contests or under R.O.P. supervision.

The dams of these males have records up to 282 eggs, with no record less than 247 large eggs, weighing 24 to 30 ounces to the dozen.

Our White Rock BRED-TO-LAY females are the result of many years of careful breeding and culling for high egg production. We have selected our best flocks to be headed by these pedigreed R.O.P. cockerels, some hens being direct descendants of a hen which is the dam of a new world champion, recently completing a year with a record of 345 eggs.

If you want White Rock chicks for a foundation flock, we believe no better quality than this mating can be found.

WHITTAKER RED FARM

The above Certificate shows the high quality type of males that we use in heading our flocks.

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY S. C. RHODE ISLAND REDS

Standard Weight: Cocks, 8½ lbs.; Cockerels, 7½ lbs.; Hens, 6½ lbs.; Pullets, 5½ lbs.

Our BRED-TO-LAY R. I. Reds have the long, deep bodies, wide flat backs and clean-cut heads so necessary for heavy egg production. They average fully up to standard, many of them above standard weight. Their plumage is a rich dark red surface with undercolor to match, green-black tails, yellow legs and skin. You will find they are very profitable, both from an egg-production standpoint as well as meat value. Rhode Island Red chicks develop very rapidly, making excellent broilers; they are good foragers and do well either in large or small flocks; are easily adapted to any climate or location. You can't go wrong on Rhode Island Reds.

The males that head our BRED-TO-LAY Reds are from one of the best flocks in the country; they are direct from trapnested, pedigreed birds, some of which are Laying Contest Winners, and with world's records behind them.

The Certificate on this page is a certified copy of the U. S. R.O.P. Record and Pedigree of these fine males.

GRISWOLD'S R. C. RHODE ISLAND WHITES

Standard Weight: Cocks, 8½ lbs.; Cockerels, 7½ lbs.; Hens, 6½ lbs.; Pullets, 5½ lbs.

Rose Comb Rhode Island Whites have the same characteristics, size, shape, etc., as the Rhode Island Reds but have the added advantage of being white in color. They lay at an early age and are good winter layers of large brown eggs. A fast-maturing white breed that will be a money-maker.

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY WHITE WYANDOTTES

White Wyandotte Stock of This Large Size and Fine Quality Means Chicks That Will Make a Profitable Investment

Standard Weight: Cocks, 8½ lbs.; Cockerels, 7½ lbs.; Hens, 6½ lbs.; Pullets, 5½ lbs.

White Wyandottes have been noted as one of the most choice breeds for broilers. Low, stockily built, close feathered White Wyandottes reach 2 lbs. in a surprisingly short time. Deep yellow skin and tender meat make them the choice of many poultry markets and will always bring the top price. Our White Wyandottes have proven themselves heavy producers of large size eggs. In the heavy weight class they predominate among winter laying breeds. Their rose comb makes them more desirable for colder climates as their combs will not freeze easily.

Our BRED-TO-LAY White Wyandotte flocks are headed by R.O.P. males whose dams have official trapnest egg records of 200 eggs or over.

GRISWOLD'S BRED-TO-LAY ENGLISH S. C. WHITE LEGHORNS

The males heading our BRED-TO-LAY Single Comb White Leghorn flocks are the large type, Tom Barron strain, and are direct descendants from dams with records of 300 to 323 eggs.

The foundation stock of our BRED-TO-LAY S. C. White Leghorns is carefully selected from birds with 35 years of trapnesting behind them. They are direct from pedigree matings of hens with trapnest records of 245 to 320 eggs.

Griswold's BRED-TO-LAY Big Type S. C. White Leghorns possess the large type, rugged body, big shank and long keel which makes them a natural egg machine. The vigor of the chicks produced from these matings is remarkable and you will be extremely well pleased with the performance of the rich Tom Barron blood lines these matings offer.

TRAPNEST BLOODLINES INCREASE PROFITS

BRED-TO-LAY "AA" QUALITY

PEDIGREED SIRE MATINGS HEADED BY MALES FROM THE WORLD'S BEST LAYING FLOCKS AND BY MALES WITH INDIVIDUAL AND PEN PEDIGREES FROM R.O.P. APPROVED HENS.

Well bred chicks are worth a lot more. By paying a few cents more per chick, it is often possible to increase the flock average 50 eggs per hen.

Breeding for egg production is the job of an expert. Vigor, egg size, straight keels, livability and many other factors must be considered besides just the number of eggs. Well bred chicks need to have years of trapnesting and pedigreeing behind them.

For the most profit, do not try to buy chicks at a bargain price. It is impossible to sell chicks from flocks headed by pedigreed males of such high production records as our BRED-TO-LAY matings, as cheap as chicks hatched from ordinary farm run flocks.

While our chicks are hatched from fine quality BRED-TO-LAY matings, they are priced within the reach of the average poultry raiser. The chicks you will receive from these high grade matings will delight you, for great care is taken to select only those chicks with strong, sturdy legs and bodies, and big, bright eyes. A few more cents invested in chicks of this quality will increase your poultry profits by many extra dollars.

BRED-TO-LAY "AAA" QUALITY

These are the finest quality chicks we produce, having the highest production breeding, and are from the cream of our BRED-TO-LAY flocks.

Males from the most outstanding layers, some with records of over 300 eggs, head our "AAA" flocks.

STANDARD "A" QUALITY

These flocks are the same high quality we have had for years—strong, healthy, pure-bred farm range flocks that have been carefully selected, culled and blood tested. The chicks are far above the average and a wonderful value at a low price.
